

Building professionalism in project management.™

May 22, 2008 Chapter Meeting

Behaviors to Master When Dealing with Your Leaders By Neal Whitten, PMP

Presentation Abstract: Your leaders want you to know—need you to know—the behaviors they consistently expect from you. Just because you have a leadership role doesn't mean you are living up to their expectations. Not only will Neal identify what your boss expects from you ...but he will articulate what you expect from those under your direction. Topics include: don't take it personally, don't dump and run, make it brief, offer professional criticism, bring solutions with problems, wear one face, and many more. Come learn how you can enhance your image, effectiveness, and career—while making your leaders look good.

Neal Whitten, PMP, is a popular speaker, trainer, consultant, mentor, and author in the areas of both project management and employee development. He has written over 80 articles for professional magazines and is the author of six books.

Mr. Whitten has over 35 years of front-line project management, software engineering, and human resource experience, of which 23 years were with IBM. He is a Member of PMI, is a PMI-certified Project Management Professional (PMP), and is a contributing editor of PMI's PM Network magazine.
